Company description

The Steinemann Company in its present form was founded by Mr. Alwin Steinemann in 1966. The site at Steinfeld is located in the heart of Germany's main livestock-farming region. This ensures direct access to top breeders. The site is also ideal for its transport links: Steinfeld lies right on the north-south axis between the north-German towns of Oldenburg and Osnabrück, and on the west-to-east axis that runs from the Dutch border to Hanover. Soon after its founding, the company began to specialise in the manufacture of meat products and sausages. The company now employs a team of 350 skilled workers, all of them dedicated to ensuring that high-quality sausage and meat products continue to be served at Europe's tables.
