Firmenbeschreibung

PROCAM Sociedad Cooperativa Andaluza was founded in 1983 by avocado and custard apple producers in the tropical coast of Motril, pioneers specializing in subtropical products. The company's strong growth led them to include horticultural products such as tomatoes, cucumbers and courgettes. The investment of resources and a growing eco-friendly mindset led to the creation of a new line for the production and marketing of organic farming products, meeting all quality requirements and developing the required technology for developing and marketing 100% natural produce. Since 2007, we grow, pack and sell fresh vegetables and subtropical produce under organic farming principles. We boast more than 50 acres of our own farming and greenhouse land, and over 150 subtropical acres for subtropical crops, reaching over 12,000 tons per year in organic product production.
